HPL Laminated Board Sheet

Technology at work

The High Pressure laminated boards, conforming to ISO 9001:2015 are manufactured under a special process and a strict quality control regimen. The board is made out of cellulosic material whereas its core is made of layers of cellulose which are impregnated with thermosetting phenolic resin. The decorative design paper on either side of the board is impregnated with special melamine resin. This is manufactured under a very high temperature and a high pressure in a multi -daylight press in which resin polycondensation takes place to give the end product the desired extra toughness and durability.
